DISTILLER, Living between the College and the North River, in Murray Street, near Mount-Plea ant, formerly called

Being fully convinced that for some time past, feveral distillers in the city have underfold me in Brandy, Geneva, and Cordials, and by that means have got away part of my customers; I beg leave to form the public, my friends, and customers, that I can afford to felt said liquors on as cheap terms as any other can theirs, of an equal quality. I believe it cannot be denied, that I was the first distillers that ever made brandy and Geneva for sale in Extract of a Letter from Connecticut. ler that ever made brandy and Geneva for fale in this province, and confequently have been the means of introducing a butiness, whereby the country saves annually large sums of money that must otherwise have gone to foreign parts. To convince the public that my terms of sale will be as reasonable as those of any other person whatever, I shall mention the prices I will now fell at, and shall continue to do fo until I advertife to the contrary ; at the fame time, I do affure all those who may incline to favour me with their cuflom, that if any other person fells liquors of equal quality with mine, cheaper than the rates underseath, I will immediately fell for the fame price, being fully de-termined not to be underfold by any person what-ever. The great demand for my liquors in most parts of North America, &c. is a sufficient proof of their excellence.

will now fell at follows, for CASH: Brandy and Gin at as ad per gallon.
Clove, orange, and annifeed waters, as also Dr.
Stephens's and all fours, at as 6d. per gallon. Likewife, raforry and cherry brandy, cherry rum, fhrub, Jamaica fpirin, West-Iadia and New-York rum, Madeira and Tenerisse wines, &c. on the most reasonable terms.

I am moft gratefully thankful to my friends and eustomers for their many past favours, and am determined to use every means in my power to conthe prices of my brandy, Geneva, and cordials confiderably, yet I shall fill make my brandy and Geneva of a full quality, and high proof, as usual ; nor shall I diminuh the goodness of my cordials in any respect whatever, being fully convinced, that confiderable fales, attended with a quick return, though fmall profits, will answer the defired end, of

HAND BILLS have been difperfed, and advertifaments to the fame purport, have appeared in the public papers, accuting many Cordial Differs in this City, of no less crime, than a breach of promise, of which I declare myself in-

No Diffiller, till faid hand bills appeared, (as I know of) ever attempted to injure himself and others, by reducing the price of liquors; and at the fame time endeavouring to perfuade the public, that they fall be of as good quality as before. The quality, not the name . fa liquor, muft fig the price : Theretore I beg you will make it known, through the chancel of your paper, to all my Corolats, &c. at lower and higher rates than are fer torch in faid hand bills, (and will warrant them as good at the prices as can be bought) fuil proof, high proof, excellent proof, superlative proof; and for the proof of the truth of what I advance, let my liquors be proved.

R. JAMES RIVINGTON has often been animadverted on in a public manner, and fundry Refolves have been passed in the different colonies, respecting his conduct as a Printer; not only as being partial, but as publifhing falfehoods, tending to difunite them, in their great fruggle to support conflitutional Liberty; defroy their mutual confidence, and render abortive that fyftem of conduct recommended by the Congress, as the most certain and advisable expedient for obtaining a redress of our grievances - Mr. Rivington, or his Partizans, have represented this as an attempt to defroy the Liberty of the Prefs .- But, shall a Preis difgorge calumny and talfehood with impunity ?- Shall the molt innocent actions of a community be traverfed, and the most reputable characters, even legifintive bodies, be traduced with passive tameness?-This would be a tacit acknowledgment of the charge. Is it not notorious, that he, while America is anxiously firuggling to preserve her conflitutional Liberties, like an invidiousSpy, watches every motion towards the grand point, and frives to fruftrate every defign ; by diffeminating diffruft and falfehood among Extract of a Letter from Connedicut. It is evident from the whole ftrain of this epifile, that the writer, attempts to fet the General Affembly of this colony in a difadvantageous point of light; vilify and difgrace feme of its meft worthy members, and creare a diffruit of them among the colonies, as though they had changed meafures; which is wide of the truth, as I shall show anon.-He fays,-

" Our Affembly met on the fecond of March, and the two first days were spent in examining the conduct of Captain Glover, and the Ridgfield Representatives, which had declared against the measures of the Congress."-Here he flumbles at the very threshhold: I am very certain, nothing of that matter, was debated the first day. His account of the Committee is very confused; if it is intelligible, he means the Committee were appointed to superintend the examination of the Representatives; but while the House spent two days in examining them, how could any Committee Superintend? Did they appoint a Committee to superintend themselves? - He says a Committee were appointed to superintend the business. and make report in May. The meaning, (if any) is obscure at beit. - If he intends, - such a Committee were appointed, to superintend the examination of the first two days, or while the examination lafted-it is not trus.

He next observes, " the debates of a wrek's duration upon the matter, coft the colony 6. 175." Here again he needs a comment: It he is intelligible, he muß mezn, a week was fpent in debating fuch matters, as he had before mentioned ; i. e. examining At first he speaks of but this is not true. and I before observed, on the first day, none of his matters were agitated; now he feems to allign a whole week to that bufinefs, for he can't be supposed fo filly, as to accuse the Affembly of fitting a week, on matters at large.-His defignwas doubtlets to infinuate, that the House speat a week about a trifling examination, which coft the Colony . 175. This might raise a clamour, and this I charitably believe was his defign. The next clause is remarkable ; he says, " In the next, many long and learned arguments were produced by the old Leaven, the Republicans, tirging the necessity of an army to be immediately raifed; the matter was recommended to a Committee, confifting of the most inflammatory, who openty declare for independence."-Such an high charge against the Committee ought to be supported by the ftrongeft evidence; but the whole weight reas on the mere ipfe dinit of an Anohymous author. Should this dirty performance gain any credit, what idea must the community entertain of the Committee and Affembly that appointed them? -- He fays, " they were Republicans, who openly declare for independence, i. c. fuch as difavow Monarchy, and admit no King to prefide in the flate."—Is this true? I alk this vile calumniator, whether he ever heard any fuch doctrine advanced in that Assembly, or by the Members of it? if so, let him support the charge, and give us his name; otherwise be will be accounted a malicious defamer. Is a Printer to be tolerated, who charges the Representatives of a Colony with treasonable principles from an Anonymous scribbler? He ought to publish the name of his correspondent, or take the blame of this fourtilous acculation to himfelf. But I mult inform him, that the Committee confided of Gentlemen of the first character, for ability as well as Loyalty, and firm attachment to the British

The report of the committee, and vote for a petition to his Majefty, which next occur, I shall remark hereafter. He then proceeds,-" This affembly was a special one, called for the express purpose of raiftelligence I cannot ensjecture, did the Go-vernor mention it in his speech, or was it ever declared in the upper, or lower house of affembly? I am confident he never heard it, from the firft or the laft, and cannot fuppofe him a member of the fecond; whence then did he derive his intelligence, of the exprefs purpefe ! I prefame it was a creature of his own morbid imagination. He next acquaints us,-" Two gentlemen went to Cambridge, to confult the provincial congress." This I conceive mentioned with a malevalent delign rowards them, in order to afperfe their characters. That they were there, is concoded, but whether with a deugh to contain the congress or not, is I believe meer conjefture. If that was really their errand, where is the crime ? Is not America engaged in supporting the town of Bakon ! Is it then a origin to confult them in affairs

He proceeds. Ou warm fone ofinfifted on raifing an army in this province, and at any rate drive the King's general ont of this religious land."-- This is meer rant. No fach thing was propoled in the affembly, (I am very vertain,) through the whole feffeon.

He fubjoins, --- A letter eartying with it in effect a petition, was fent down to the lower house, from the upper house, addref-fed to Lord Dartmouth." A letter was fent from the upper board, to the lower house, for their concurrence and approbation; it was an answer to one received from Lord Dartmouth, and addressed to that nobleman; in this they declare the loyalty of themselves and the other colonies, to his present Majely, and their concern-at the claims of the British parliament, which have occasioned so much anxiety among the coloniks; they decently afferted our conflitutional rights, and condeled the unhappy fufferers of Bofton, as a virtuous and leval people ; in fine, they requested his Lordfhip's kind interpolition with his Majetty, for our

He concludes,-" The wasp immediately feized, and clumfily attacked thofe parts of it, which were calculated to reflore harmony, between Great Britain and America; but he was over ruled, and returned home grievoully disappointed."- Wheever was defigned by the wafp, the epithet clumfy, is not fo applicable to that infed, as to his own dull performance. But here again he errs from the truth. When the letter was read in the lower house, fundry clauses were objected to. Tho' (in my opinion) the fair import of the letter was unexceptionable, yet, as not only one, but feveral members were of opinion, that fome expressions were too vague, and might be wrefted to a nozious fente, they were cautious of making any feeming concessions of their indubitable rights. After fome debate, a committee was apamendments, which they did, by fabilituting more cautious and determinate expreffions, and varying rather the diction than fenfes when it puffed the houfe, (as & thought,) without a diffent, So that inhead of being over ruled, as he talfely fuggefts, there was an amendment, to the ge-neral acceptance : and no one (I believe) returned home grievoully disappointed, except this author or his voucher.

As to what he fays in his polite way. " That the wafp elumlity attacked those parts of the letter, that were calculated to reftore harmony, between Great-Britain and America." No parts were attacked, except fuch as I juft noticed. Doubtlefs he was offended that any corrections were made and intended, they should be under-food in the noxious fense, to which the house sear'd they might be wrested; else, why is he angry with others, for attacking those parts, which it was apprehended, might be taken in such a sense? By such as might restore barmony, it is evident, he delign'd such parts, as might grants, as might grants. tify the ministry, at the expence of our liberties.

I promis'd to consider the report of the committee, and the vote for a petition to his Majefty .- The house confidered at large, the alarming fituation of America; they professed their allegiance to his prefent Maeft, and firm refolution to fupport our conflitutional liberties. They defire to live peaceable and loyal subjects to his Britan-nie Majesty. But should violence essay to enflave them, they believe they are warranted, by the example of Great Britain, and the conflitution itself, to defend themfelves, and repel any lawless invasion. The' they were well united, in the grand principle of conflitutional liberty, yet it is ne wonder, in this fad dilemma, if their conneils were ferioes. After confiderable debates, on affairs the most interesting, that ever were agitated in a fenate, the committee withdrew, and framed a bill, (as their author inferms,) that the minds of the afthis bill was calmly debated, and siter apeving that for appointing general officers, fuch as have been in fome of the neighbouring provinces for a long time.) the reft of the bill was prudently dismissed. In these debates, a concern for the public weal, fo far predominated over private refentment. that the whole was conducted with the tetel friendlip and harmony; fo that when a great part of the bill was rejected, yet it feetied to be, with a general approbation of the committee themselves, as every one feemed to incline to purfue the most prudent advice, whether fuggefied by himfelf or agothet.

I new proceed to confider the Petition to his Majefty,—here our author fails of tell-ing the whole truth, Mr. Rivington, the week before he published the extract now under confideration, mentions this Petition as eatie of great joy. One would think from this, that the colony had been in open reballion, and was now returning to their duty, else why this transport! Did he never hear that this colony petitioned their Sovereign before? I can tell him they h ve repeatedly. Did not the Congress pe ition ? He knows they did. Whence then this exultation ? Doubtles he had an eye to those parts of the letter which were calculated to reftore harmony between Great Bitain and America, which his correspondeat informed him were clumbiy attacked by the wafp ; but he returned home grievoully disappointed. That this is meer fiction I have flewn before. But being deceived by his correspondent, he felt a glow of uncommon joy, which he could not conceal till he might publish the fetter. He thought perhaps, Connecticut had made a compliment of her liberties to the ministry ; and this he was impatient to publish. This colony, ever attached to the prefent reigning family, did vote to prefer a petiti-on to his Majeffy; but on a little reflection it was thought inexpedient at this juncture, as the congress had petitioned, in behalf of America in general, and they had not them heard what reception their petition and with # and by fame it was thought, in every fuchi fiep, we ought to advise with the other calonies. In thert, I have the fatisfaction to fee, that the very fame reasons, that the worthy representatives of Persylvania, offered their governor, as an excuse for not petitioning at prefent, prevailed on this af-

CLEAN FLAXSEED TO DE SOLD-BY PETER CLOPPER'S Flaxfeed Store in Maiden Lane, near the NEW. JERSET.

Elizabeth Town, March 27, 1775. T being fully proved to the Committee of A Observation of this Town, after enquiring into the conduct of Ichabed B. Barnet, and John Murray, respecting the lauding of Goods imported from London after the first day of February latt:- That a thip called the Brulah, arrived from London at the Watering pince at Staten island, in the Colony of New York, after the faid first day of February. where the lay fome time under pretence of fitting for the feas .- That on Sunday the 5th inftant, fae fell down to Sandy hook, where the came to anchor, and on Monday evening following, the faid lehabod B. Barnet, with a boat by him provided for that purpofe, went on board the faid fhip, where John Murray then was, out of waich hip, the feid lehabod B. Barnet and John Murray, the fame night, took and received into the faid boat, a quantity of goods, imported in the faid fhip from London, of confiderable value; and in the night following, privately landed them in Elizabeth Town, which translaction is contrary to part of the tenth article of the Continental Affociation, which is in the words following, to wit. " If any goods or merchandizes, " fhall be imported after the firft day of " February, the fame ought to be forthwith " fent back, without breaking the packages ". thereof."

The Committee, therefore order the above conduct of the faid John Murray and Ichabod B. Barnet to be published, according to the eleventh article of the faid Affeciation. Signed by Order of the Committee, Jonathan Hampton, Chairman.

Committee Chamber, New York. ad April, 1775. The following Letter was received from the General Committee of South Carolina, and by this Committee ordered to be printed. EDWARD FLAMMING Chairman, pro. Tem. Charles Town, S. Carolina, March 1. 1775. Gentlemen,

T was with equal furprife and concern, that we read, in the public prints, what paffed in your house of affembly on the 26 h of January, with respect to the proceedings of the general Congress. It is impeffible for us at this diftance, to conjecture the reasons which induced the affembly to refuse their formal affent to the folema agreement of all these colonies. We are obliged to suspend our judgment until we hear from you : and will not even permit ourselves to conclude, that it is owing cither to a neglect of the united voice of America, or to want of spirit in the cause of freedom .- In the midft of the pain that we feel at this fingular inflance of provincial policy, we confole ourselves with the apprehenfion that it was intended, not as a declaration of their real inclinations, but, only as a prudential meafure : That they having been chosen antecedent to the prefent difpute and therefore not with a particular view to it, might suppole the necesficy of their interfering, superfeded by a pofterior choice. We confole ourselves with the thought, that the legal representatives, of your respectable colony, by refusing to aft. did not mean to hold up to the world the opinion of their conflituents, but have only left it to another representation, not fo much according to the letter of the law, but equally respectable, and as much to be depended on.

We only beg leave to make this remark upon their policy; that they have therein fingled themselves out from the reft of the colonies; who, as far as they have had the opportunity, have come unanimously into the measures of the General Congrets : And we cannot but think, it would have been much more happy for the whole, had there been no exception -- Indeed. altho' the house of Affembly in this colony, hath nobly, and un-uimoufly adopted the procerdings of the General Congress; yet have they not had it in idea to take the matter wholly into their own hands, independent of the provincial Congress; but even new, while that Affembly is fitting, the General Committee of the Colony alfo fits and does buficefs, independent of the Houfe. A measure this, necessary in the royal Governments, where the liableness of the Assembly to sudden prorogations and diftolutions, renders their proceeding in bufineis wholly dependent on the creatures of the Cown --- Much therefore, as we are furprised, at the concuet of your Affembly, we are not fo ignorant as to imagine, it is the definitive voice of the colony. And, indeed, we de not allow ourtelves to entertain a fuspicion, that your resolutions would not be the fame with those of the reft of the colonies, if you only had a full and free representation of the whole colony, elected on the prefent occasion : Such a reprejentation we hope to hear of in oue time.

We are not infentible of the confequence of your colony in the great chain of American union : Ner do we imagine the Minifiry infertible of it :- we are well aware of your unhappy fituation, and of the many artful meafures that have been, and E w are taking, if pedible, to threw you into confusion. We are well aware of the poifon that is daily distilling from fome of your pensioned Presses, and the hireling writers that have crept in among you ---We are not ignorant of that crowd of placemen, of contractors, of officers, and needy dependents upon the Crown, who are conflantly employed to fruftrate your meafures. We know the dangerous tendency of being made the head quarters of America, for many years. All thele things, the' they necessarily tend to clog the wheels of public fpirit, yet de not cante us to doubt of your public virtue, as a colony ? Nuy, we affure ourselves, that your love to confirutional liberty, to juftice, and your pofterty; however depressed for a little while, will, at laft furmount all obfacles, and do honour to New York.

The present ftruggle feems to us meft glorious and critical. We feem to ourfelves, to Rand upon the very division line, between all the bleffings of Freedom, and the mon abject Vaffalage. The very idea of an earthly power, which shall bind the prefent, and future millions of America, in all cafes whatforver-in the direction of which we are to have no more voice than our oxen, and over which we can have no conflitutional control, fills us with horror. To hold not only our Liberty and Property at will, but our Lives alfo; as well as the lives of all our pefterity! To be ablelutely dependent for the air in which we breathe, and the water which we drink, upon a fet of men at the diffance of three thoufand miles from us ; who, even when they abule that power are out of the reach of our vengeance, is a proposal which this colony hears with indignation, and can only fubmit to when there is no possible remedy. By the late deteftable sets of the British Parliament respecting America, -all mankind will judge whether that body may be falely entruited with fuch a power. We have now appealed to the remaining juftice of the nation; we have endeavoured to aroufe them to a fenfe of their own dan gers ; we have appealed to their mercantile interefts for our defence. Our hopes of face fi are not yet damped by any thing but the possibility of disunion among our felves. We have the pleafare to inform you, that in this colony, the affociation takes place, as effectually as law itfelf. Sundry veffe's from England have already been obliged to return with their merchandize, or have it thrown everboard as common ballaft.

We may affire you of our fixed determinotion to achere to the refoutions at all hazards; and that ministerial opposition is here obliged to be filent : We wish for the day when it thall be filenced among you the friends of a Litrary rule, about the de fign of those proceedings in your House of Affimbly .- We cannot, and will not believe that you intend to defert the caute. Three things however, oblige us to write

First. The general alarm which the proeeedings above mentioned have given-that we may obtain from you certain intelligence of the disposition of your Colony, whether those proceedings are to be understood as the general tenfe of the good people of New-York, or only of a bare majority of the House, Secondly. That we may learn from you, whether the Affociation of the General Congrefs, has actually been adopted by you, and is now put into execution. On these two points we beg you will give us the earlieft intelligence possible, that we may be able (as we have not the leaft doubt that we shall be) thereby to quiet the anxiety of the people of this prevince, and prevent the tools of Ministry from exulting at any appearance of difunion .- And laftly, that we may fuggeft to you an expedient, which, with great fuccets, has been tried in this province, viz. that of a Provincial Congress, in which every corner of the Co-· lony is fully and largely represented. -- As yet we have not had the pleasure of hearing that you have adopted this or any fimilar measure: And although we would not be underflood as prefuming to dictate to our brethren ; yet we would take the liberty to inform them, that this meafore has given the greateft fatisfaction here, and fo firmly united the town and country, that we are thereby become one compact regularly organized body. The enemies of American freedom are aware of the comenting tendency of fuch a flep, and where ever they have influence, endeavour to prevent it, well knowing, that while the different diffriets of a Colony are kept apart, they do not all receive the fame information, and are exposed to the baneful effects of jealousy and division, especially when any confiderable part suppoiss itself negleted by not being called in to give its voice.—And we find, that the larger this representation is, the less the daneger of corruption and influence; the more is fly deceit deterred from venturing its efforts ; and the more weight goes with every determination .- The Congress of this Colony confills of one hundred and eighty four members, and is, by far, the fullest reprefentation of it that ever has been together

We, therefore, as brethren, united in the fame caule, do only beg leave to recommend the above measure already found by experi ence of such utility in fundry of the Royal governments, but especially in this .- The pecessity of electing Delegates to the Congress in May, we are affored will thew the expediency of fuch a Provincial Meeting.

We feel ourfelres bound to you by the clofeft ties of intereft and affection .--- We confider this featon, as, big with American glory, or with American infamy,

We, therefore, molt ardently wish you the direction and aid of that Almighty Being. who prefides over all .- We confidently expect to meet you in General Congress, at Philadelphia, with hearts full of zeal in our country's caule, and full of mutual confideace in the integrity of each other.

This tract is uncommonly well watered and timbered, having on it a large quantity of the finest white oaks and other trees of the most valuable kinds ; allo an extraordinary stream of water, and a faw mill thereon, which if properly attended to, will clear two hundred pounds a year, free of all expences. There are about one hundred acres improved of the above tract, and a fufficient quantity of meadow to keep twenty head of cattle, befide horfes &c. throughout the winter; and about two handred acres more may be casily made. The land is as fit for grain as any in the country. The meadows exceed in goodness any in the neighbourhood, and a better out range for cattle cannot be in any part whatever. On the premifes are a good framed house, with a large garden newly paled round, having in it fundry forts of the best fruit trees, and a fine young orchard of the beft grafted apple trees. Befides the above valuable improvements, there are three tenements (one of them a new framed house) on faid tract, that are held by the occupants as tenants at will, and to each there is a confiderable quantity of cleared land. Two landing places can be used to and from said trad, the one at Poplope's Kill, which is also the landing place to and from the furnace of Dean, the other on the west fide of Salifbury's Ifland, from which landing there is a good waggon or cart road to Queenferry. The above premises are in good repair and happily fituated in a thick fettled country, having the furnace of Dean within two miles and a half of the principal dwelling house, which will always prove a ready market for great part of the produce of the farm, belides the convenience of a weekly conveyance to New York, during the featon.

the causes are more fo : being, according to our belt information, no other than a ties from every parish and diffrict in the refusal of the House of Assembly to obey she ministerial mandates, contrary to their Town, in Provincial Congress, being the consciences, and subversive of the rights of our constituents; and his Majefty's Council, composed chiefly of placemen, paying an implicit and fervile obedience to uncon-Ritutional infructions. Such acts tend immediately to a total abolition of Affemblies; for, if freedom of debate, and a constitutional independence be denied to them, they cannot patholy be ufeful, probably they will become dangerous.

We forber to trouble your Honour with reasons in support of the request which we now, as of right, make in behalf of the good subjects of his Majesty in this colony, that the holding and fitting of the General Affembly be no longer delayed, but that it be permitted to fit, for the dispatch of publit bufineli, as formerly.

Extrast of a letter from a gentleman in England dated Jan. 1.

" I have had the honour of being fent for by some of the first people in administration, who, to do them juffice, feem now rather difpoled to beat the wound than keep it open. They only with that some line could be drawn to the fatistadion of the people in this coun try, who cannot think of too great jubmission to the colonies, whom they consider as their children."

[It is enough to make a wife man mad to read such paragraphs as these ?- Surely the people who write them, have no fouls nor powers of thinking -Who the plague requires any fubmission from the people of England?-We never invaded them, in their persons ner properties;-We only infifted upon keeping poffession of our own; -and do they call this an infult upon them ! -They have indeed attempted a Robbery upon us, of the most atrocious kind ;-but we have made no attempt to retalliate the injury, and require nothing of them but to let us alone ;--- and do they call this requiring them to submit to us?-Surely they who think and talk in this manner are infatuated, but - Quos Deus vult perdere prins They possed a vote of thanks to all the dementat. ?

> The following is copy of a letter fent by a pentleman in New York, to his father at Tamaica on Long Island on hearing that he had appeared awong the Tories, in voting against choosing Deputies for a provincial Convention, in order to the appointment of Delegates to a Continental Congress in May

New York, ad April, 1775. HOW ain I to adaros you - Father ! --Dear and honoured Father ! and is it then pofible, that you can give your voice againft the bappinels and future well being of the only Child you have in the world, and the Freedom of your grand Children ? --

Will you give me liberty to tell Little Betfy and my other Children, that you confented to enflave them? - That you choose to deprive them of the greatest biefing of human life a gift of Heaven, which no man has a right to take or give away, and without which, nothing that this world affords can be worth

By a Gentleman who left Montreal the 13th of last month, we have the following advices, viz. That upwards of 1200 of the inhabitants of that place (chefiy French) had figned a petition to his Maje. ity, for the Repeal of the Quebec bill, lacely paffed in the British parliament, for the new regulation of the government of that prevince; and that it was not doubted but that the Petition would be figued almost univerfally by all the people in the whole province. That at Quebec, great pains had been taken by the ministerial Agents, to procure an Address of Thanks to the King and Parliament for framing and passing these laws, but that only 20 Signers could be precured to the faid Addrefs.

On the Report of a delign to form an ar my in Canada to join the King's regular forces in fighting against and enslaving the other British colonies; the Canadians were greatly alarmed, and took the best method to ferve in the Militia, the Canadiare confidered Marriage as a Protection, to which, fince their new laws, they have fo univerfally had recourfe, that it is faid there is hardly an unmarried man to be found in all the country. What an increase to American Manufasturer, has this villainous scheme produced ! Thus every contrivance of the tools of an Administration, whose plan of proceeding is founded on the meditated ruin of the English conflictation, and whose expected harvest therefrom, is tyrannical or uncoatroled power over the lives and properties of the people who would then be an herd of the most abject flaves, to every succeeding Tyrant; -every contrivance, I fay, of thefe tyrannical petts to fociety and troublers of the land, turns out in its confequences exactly contrary to the defign of its Contriver. This has been proved in fo many inflances, that to mention particulars is needlefs .- Is it not amazing then, that they flould be fo blind and infatuated, as not to fee that the hand of Heaven is against them? - Or fo hardy as to perfift in their deftructive fchemes in opposition to it, and to the ftrongest calls of reason and junice!

Yefterday afternoon arrived the Providence Packet, in which came feveral passengers, some of whom lately left Bolon, and fay, that the Troops under General Gage, are certainly to take the Field in two or three weeks time, which feems to be corroborated by many more circumfances than can be enumerated at this time. We hear from Poughkeepsie, that on the 21ft uit a few friends to Liberty met at the house of Mr. John Bailey, about two or three miles out of town, and erected a pole on his land, with a fing on it, bearing on one fide THE KING, and on the other, THE CONGRESS AND LIBERTY. This innocent and common manoeuvre, gave fuch great offence to the High flieriff of Dutchels County, that the next day, attended by a Judge of the Inferiour Court of Common Pleas; -two of his Majelty's Jul tices of the Peace ;- a Conftable, with his Raff ;-and about fifty other CHOSEN friencs to order, decency, and good gevernment,-He paraded to the pole, and (notwithflanding the express prohibition of Mr. Bailey, the owner of it, and the land it from the frong parts and towering Geniuses flood on) had it hewn down as a public

On the 11th day of March laft, there came on, before Peter Guion, Elq; at Befley's Tavern, at New Rochelle, a trial about a dispured Horse race that had been run on Rye Flats; one of the parties demanded a Jury, and the Juflice accordingly issued a Process for the Purpose -A number of the inhabitants were fummoned and appeared, but unanimously refused to be sworn, declaring, that as Horse racing was contrary to the Affociation of the Congress, they would never ferve as Jurors in any fuch caufe, and that if the Julice thought proper to commit them, they would go to gael .-In short, the Justice was obliged to try the cause himself.

Wallkill, Uffer County. Feb. 27, 1775. On Friday night last departed this life, after a short, though violent illness, Captain George Graham, univerfally refpreted and regretted. He was nurtured from his early intancy in the botom of the Church of England, of which he was a worthy and exemplary member, evincing to the world, by the whole tenor of his conduct, that his He and manners, were governed and directed by the evangelical purity and diffusive chafity of its doctrines.

Equal Ty amiable in every dometic relation, he approved himlett the tender hufbind, affedionate parent, and indulgent mafter, exhibiting to his neighbours a bright example of conjugal affection and parental ten

He has left a numerous family, and many friends to lament his death; May they thew respect for his memory, by imitating his virtues f His remains were interred on Sunday, attended by a large' concourse of his neighbours and friends, at the Church in the parify of St. Andrews ; where they rek in expectation of a glorious and happy refurrection.

CRIMNEY OFFICE, 25th March, 1775.

W O of the Chimnies under the care of the Subfcriber baving lately taken fire, he finds himfelf obliged to give this notice to the Subfcribers of his Propofals for a Chimney Office :-- That for their own fecurity, as well as his reputation, it is abfolute-Is necessary, that they hould permit their Chimnes to be fwept at the flated times when their turns come about, according to the terms of the propofals and agreement before mentioned; otherwife, it will be impof-Shie for him to aufwer for the confequences; and in cafe any of the Chimpies under his care thould take fire, he will be obliged, in his own vindication, to flew, that the accident did not happen through his tault, and to publif the names of the proprietors.

And whereas he has now on his book. upwards of one hundred houses, where, after due notice, the owners have refused to have their chimnies fwept in turn, faying, " that they did not yet want fweeping, or, " that a Sweeper fould be fent for, if want-" ed before the next turn came about "---Me, therefore, thinks it accessary to remind them, that if by thefe means, or any other fault of the proprietors of Chimnies under his eare they should take fire, that he is not accountable for fuch accident, happening without any fault of his.

It is now about eleven months force he becan this bufinefs, in which time, but three fices have happened among the Chimnies of his Subseribers, nor was be blameable on account of any of thefe.

The fi ft was occasioned by a more accident in the kitchen chimney of Mr. Alexander Wallace, merchant. The Subferiber, no knowing that there were two of the fame name. in the fame freet, fent bis clerk, James Magwell, to give notice to Mr. Wallace, that his chimney was to be fwept in tura .-- The Clerk, on enquiry, was directed to the house of Alexander Wallace. Tallow-chandler, then lately deads The Widow faid, her hufband being dead, the had no occasion of a Chimney tweeper ;-on which report the name was crafed from the Subfcriber's book. He heard no more of the matter till three months after this, when the Chimney of Mr. A Wallace, Merchant (whom the Subferiber did not then know to be one of his enflomers) took fire.

The fecond accident of the kind, was in the Chimney of Mr. Gaine, who had been but about three months a Subferiber .- Before that, by the negled of former Sweepers, the foot had been fo caked and hardened, that the Sweeper could not break or loofen t with his feraper, and could only fweep of the part that was loofe and uncemented.—
After the bardened foot had been broke and pofened by the fire, there were aime puil fulls of it taken from the chimney.

The third accident was in the Chimney Mr. Rem Rapalie, in Crown freet .- A. bout three weeks ago, notice was given at his house, that his Chimney was to be swept in turn, and the Sweepers were accordingly feat, but they were told, that the Chimney did not yet want sweeping, and dismissed; whereby the Chimney was expected to the accident that happened to it this day.—But the Subscriber hopes name of those accidents will be imputed to him, as he has confantly taken care, that the business of his Office should be faithfully performed.

faw a collection of feripture texts adduced to countenance the doctrines of passive obedience and zon-refiftance. - This attempt, reminded me of Satan's quoting fcripture to encourage presumption; and indeed absolute passive obedience and non resistance in all cales, is as contrary to the word of God, as prefumption -That your Readers may be convinced of this, I here furnish you with the following texts of scripture, which I defire you would publish the first opportunity. Exod. i. 15-20. the Egyptian mid-wives disobeyed the cruel order of their king, to kill the male infants of the Ifraelites, and for this generous and humane refulal, they were figually bleffed of the Lord .- The Ifraelites, with reason, disobeyed the inhu-man mandate of their Monarch, 1 Sam. xiv. 15. and his footman juftly disobeyed him .-Alfo, 1 Sam, zxii. 17. Mordeeai, Shadrach, Meschach and Abednego. The prophet Daniel, and the apostles, disobeyed the unlawful commands of kings and magistrates, Compare Efther, iii. 1-9, Dan. iii. 15-18 Din, vi. 7-10. Acts iv. 18-20. Acts v. 27-29 from these quotations it appears, that when relifance to the orders of magif. trates is forbidden in fcripture, it is meant of resistance to just and legal orders .- To be convinced that oppression, tyranny, and unrighteous acts of government, are odious to the supreme Being, Consider the following texts, a Sam. xxiii. 3. He that ruleth over men must be just, ruling in the fear of God. Jer. xxx. 20. I will punish all that oppress my people. Isaiah x. 1. Woe unto them that decree unrighteous decrees, and that write grievoulness, which they have prescribed, to turn aside the needy from judgment, and to take away the right from the poor of my people. Ezek. xlv. 9. Thus faith the Lord God, remove violence and spoil, and execute judgment and juffice, take away your exactions from my people, faith the Lord. Esclereffin maketh a ia pieces the oppressor. Exod. iii. 7,- 8 9. And the Lord faid, I have furely feen the at-Action of my people, which are in Egypt, and have heard their cry, by reason of their Talk mafters, for I know their forrows and I am come down to deliver them out of the hand of the Egyptians, and to bring them up out of that land, unto a good land and a large, unto a land flowing with milk and honey. Now, therefore, behold the cry of the have also feen the oppression wherewith the Egyptians oppress them: And accordingly, he prought them out of the house of bondage with an high hand and an ont fretched arm, and drowned their oppressors, Pharoah and his Egyptians in the Red Sea .- Rehoboam took the counsel of the young men, and rejected the old men's advice; and answered the people roughly and said, he would add to their burdens and not eafe them ; whereupon many of the tribes revolted, and the King thereupon going to fight against them, to reduce them to submission, is forbidden of God. Compare 2 Chron. x. and 14 with 3 Kings xil. and 2 Chron, xi. Thus faith the Lord, ye shall not go up nor fight against your brethren -A good hiat for the army ! Peruse the iii. iv, v, vi, and vii, chapters of the book of Efther, chap, iii. 8. And Haman faid unto king Ahafuerus, there is a certain people scattered abroad and dispersed among the people in all the provinces of thy kingdom, and their laws are divers from all people, neither keep they the King's law; therefore it is not for the King's profit to futfor them. If it please the King, let it be written, that they may be destroyed, and I will pay ten thousand talents of filver, to the hands of those that have the charge of the bufinels to bring it into the King's Treafusies; and the King took the ring from his hand, and gave it unto Haman the Jews enemy; and the King faid unto Haman, the filver is given to thee, the people alfo to do with them as it feemeth good to thee .- Haman however failed in his bloody designs against them ever fince, yet they have hitherto dehowever failed in his bloody defigns against

NEW YORE, March 20, 1775. ditated destruction, and he was hanged on a gallows of his own raising.—A dreadful warning this, to all vindictive and sanguinary ministers! When the Jews were devoted to destruction by the edict of King Ahashuerus. All avenues to the Throne were thut up, and free access to the Monarch prohibited, on pain of death. Queen Efther, arged, by abfolute necessity, ventured to petition the King in these dangerous circumstances, and fucceeded. An apology this, for our glorious Congress, if it needs one. O that it may be an example of the faccels of their petition. Bribery is expressly forbidden in the word of God, Exed. xxiii. 8. Then shalt not take a gift, for a gift blindeth the eyes of the wife, and perverteth the words of the righteous. Prov. xxix. 4. He that receiveth gifts, overthroweth the land. See persons threatened for this fin. 1 Sam. vill. 3. Ifaiah i. 29. v. 22. Jer. xxii. 17. Ezek xxii, 27. Hof iv. 18. Ames v. 12. and Mich. iii. 11. The whole tenor of the gospel is diametrically oppolite to every species of tyranny and oppresson, the leve of mankind is its grand peculiarity. -Our Saviour informs us, that the love of our neighbour, is the great commandment of the law; and he exhorts his disciples to do to others, whatfoever they would that others should do unto them; this he says is the law and the prophets .- The celebrated Doctor Newton, now Bishop of Bristol, in his differtations on the prophecies, having mewn how minutely and remarkably the predictions concerning the destruction of tyrants, were accomplished, adds this remark, vol. 1. p. g12. " But not only in this particular, but in the general, the fcriptures, though often perverted to the purpole of tyranny, are yet in their own nature calculated to promote the civil, as well as religious liberties of mankind. True religion and virtue and liberty, are more nearly related, and more intimately connected with each other, than people commonly confider. It is very berty ; or as one Saviour expresseth it, wife man mad, Pfal. xxii. 4. He fhall break $. 31. 32. It ye continue in my word, then with the most specieus sophistry, but veid legislative capacity, according to these liberal, generous and noble featiments ! I shall conclude with an extract from the polite, catholic and elegant Dr. Balguy's dedication of his fermons to his grace Dr. Thomas children of Ifrael is come up unto me, and I Herring, Arch Bishop of Canterbury, at the time of the last rebellion in Scotland, in favour of the Pretender. "What fellows my Lord not only feems to claim a place, but cannot be omitted without a crime. I mean that exemplary love of your country, which burns fo mobly in your own breatt, and has kindled or fpread that generous passion all around you. You teach us by all fit means and methods, not only to be good to be wife and virtues; but brave and free. You fet before us in the ftrongest light, the charms of liberty, and execrable evils of tyranny and bondage; enflaming our minds with an ardent love for the one, and an unconquerable aversion to the other. From your grace, we learn how to oppose the arts and intrigues of modern Rome, with the facrifice our lives and fortunes, to the prefervation of our liberties, and the defence of our country." O that the generous ardour which flames and fhines in thefe lines, ani mated the breaks of all the Bishops and Clergymen in England and America, and in hopes of the general concurrence of the other townships, in the choice of a new County Committee, when one publication might have ferved for the whole :- but finding fome of them have hitherto declined to comply with the recommendation of the General Congress, in that respect, and not knowing whether they intend it at all ; they judge it highly expedient to transmit the following account to the prefs, left their brethren in diffant parts of the colony should think the county of Monmouth altogether inactive at the prefent important crifis.

In pursuance of the recommendation of the grand Continental Congress, and for the preservation and support of American · Freedom, a respectable body of the Free-· helders, inhabitants of the Township of · Freehold, met at Monmouth Court House, on Saturday December 10th, 1774, and unanimoufly elected the following gentlemen to ferve as a Committee of Observation and Inspection for the said Town. viz. John Anderson, Esq; Capt. John Covenhoven, Meffrs. Peter Forman, Hendrick · Smock, Afher Holmes, David Forman, and John Forman, Doctor Nathaniel Scudder, and Doctor Thomas Henderson,-Who were instructed by their constituents, to endeavour, to the utmeft of their know-· ledge and power, to carry into execution, the feveral important and falutary meafures pointed out to them by the American · Congress; and, without favour or offection, to make all fuch diligent inquiry, as · hall be found conducive to the accomplish. ment of the great and necessary purposes held up by them to the attention of Ame-" rica."

At an early meeting of faid Committee, a pamphlet, intitled, Free Thoughts on the Refelves of the Congress, by A. W. Farmer, was handed in to them, and their opinion of it afked, by a number of their conftituents then prefent : Said pamphlet was then read, true as St. Paul faith, 2 Cor. 3 17. that and, upon mature deliberation, unanimoufly where the spirit of the Lord is, there is li- declared to be a performance of the most pernicious and malignant tendency, replete are ye my disciples indeed, and ye shall know of any folid, or rational argument, calcuthe truth, and the truth shall make you lated to deceive and mifead the unwary, the free." What pity is it, that this learned and ignorant, and the credulous; and defigned, ingenious Bishop, and all the reft of his right no doubt, by the deteftable author, to damp reverend brethren, have not acted in their that noble fpirit of union, which he fees prevailing all over the continent, and if posible, to fap the foundations of American Freedom. The pamphlet was afterwards handed back to the people, who immediately beflowed upon it a fuit of tar and turkey-buzzard's feathers ; one of the perfons concerned in the operation, juftly obferving, that although the feathers were pluckt from the most stinking fewl in the creation, he thought they fell far short of being a proper emblem of the author's odioufness to every advocate for trus freedom. The fame person withed, however, he had the pleasure of fitting him with a suit of the fame materials: The pamphlet was then, in Clergymen, but good Englishmen; not only its gorgeous attire, nailed up firmly to the pillory poft, there to remain as a monument of the indignation of a free and loyal people, against the author and vender of a publication fo evidently tending, both to subvert the liberties of America, and the conditution of the British empire.

At a subsequent meeting of faid Committee, it was refolved unsaimoufly, that, on spirit of ancient Remans; and cheerfully to account of fundry publications, in the pamphlet way, by James Rivington, Printer, of New York, and also a variety of weekly productions in his paper, blended in general, with the most glaring falfehoods, -difgorged with the most daring effrontery, -and all evidently calculated to difunite the colonies, and fow the feeds of difeord and contention through the whole continent; they do efteem him a base and malignant enemy to the Liberties of this country, and think he ought juftly to be treated as fuch, by all considerate and good men .--- And they do for themselves, now publiely declare, (and recommend the fame conduct to their conflituents,) that they will have no connection with him the faid Rivington, while he continues to retail fuch dirty, fcandalous, and traiterous performances ;-but hold him in the utmost contempt, as a noxious exotic plant, incapable either of cultivation, or improvement, in this foil of freedom; and only fit to be transported whence he came, there to be employed in retailing Keyfer's Pills, to his own country " devils ; a rank of beings, by the bye, for whom only, he feems to be a fit affeciate.

This Committee did, early make applica-tion to every other Township in the county, recommending the election of Committees; and they soon had information that those of Upper Freehold, Middletown, and Dover, had chosen theirs, and were resolved

To D. C. Esq; No I.

Dear Sir, TOU expect my fentiments on our public effairs, and indeed, I can with freedom unburden my full heart to one, whom I efteema true friend to George the III. our rightful Sovereign, to the Proteftant fucceffion in his family, and to the real interest, and greatest good of the whole British empire. - And were fuch as truly the character of every British subject as it is yours, and every mind properly informed, all our un-happy differences would foon be amicably fettled, and every difagreeable commotion, and unfriendly passion subside.—But a strong party, too near the Throne, of a quite opposite character, are opposing the general good of the nation, to the great danger of the King, the Protestant succession, and intereft, and even the very existence of the empire, as such. You need not be told, Sir, the many well known facts on which this great danger is founded .- Have not that party invaded the rights of mankind in every part of the empire? Hath not that invalion ftir'd up a fpirit of jealoufy, difaffection, and opposition to those hateful measures, more or less, in almost every city, county, and colony in the Britist dominions? For instance, the noble spirit, and manly oppofition fhewn by the citizens of London, and the electors of Middlefex, when their right of election was trodden under foot by that party, in the case of Wilkes and Lutterel .-And the many petitions and remonstrances from every quarter, are fo many inftances of the like kind -Henca it appears that America is not fingular in her opposition .- He muft be ignorant of the prefeat fate of our nation, who is not fentible that there are Rill millions in Great Britain and Ireland, who are possessed of the same virtuous principles with us; and who have flewn, or foon must fhew themfelves on the fide of Liberty, Protestantism, and the Constitution. Their eyes are opening .- They fee more and more, this great truth, that the ruin of the whole empire is involved in that of America. -In fhort, fuch is the flate of our public affairs, that thould the friends of despotifm carry their point a little higher, and begin with the fword to enforce fubmiffion to tyranny, the whole empire would fall into the most dreadful convultions, and thake to the very centre. — Then, when these conlofs of much bland,-then, (may heaven prevent it) the atlantic ocean. the Irish fea, and the rivar Tweed, will probably be what the English channel is now,-a divider of kingdoms, -or the whole be fwallowed up by Bourbon.

Nor can Stuart himfelf, whom America abhors, exped more than a part of the empire -For France and Spain, now grown frong, will no doubt, at fuch a time, do all that in them lies to divide and weaken the British empire. When the Romish reli-gion in Ireland, the love of Swart in Scotland, and the lust of gold in England, will forward their design. For what but the love of money could have calculated the prefent ministerial plan, so exactly to suit the meridian of Paris? -- Some may imagine that America may be subjugated without any fuch ill confequences to the European part of the British dominions; and that the fillance : Because, they fay, many in hopes of present profit, or suture savours; and many thro sear of punishment, will join the ministerial party, and thereby so divide as to destroy, in a great measure, every mode of opposition; And that those who still continue their opposition, will be so disheartened, and unsupposited, as to fall an difheartened, and unfupported, as to fall an early prey to their enemies. — On which let it be remarked,-That those who hold and American doarines, betray in themselves either ignorance, cowardice, or treachery; which are directly opposite to the true character of America in general.—The Americans are a fenfible, learned, brave, loyal, free, protestant people.—And though there are some who are otherwise, yet they are a diminitive number, fo comparatively few, that they never have, and it is to be hoped they never will, take the lead in our public affairs. - Those who think England may be dafe while in an open rupture with America, do not duly confider their danger from their internal and external enemies, the French, Spaniards, Catholicks, Jacobites, and Tories. -Of which it is hard to fay who are the greatest enemies to the British conflitution, and the protestant intereft .-Be that as it may, it has been openly declared in Parliament, that were the banners of rebellion once fpread in America, England would be a rained people. And many of the mod fenfible Britons have given it as their opinion, that Great Britain and her Cotonies mult fland or fall together. They are therefore often calling upon us to fload firm and united in our virtuous opposition; adding, that thereby we shall fave ourselves, and them-This is doubtless true : And it is allowed by friends and foes, that our danger principally, if not wholly, lies in our being divided among ourfelves. What punishment, therefore, is adequate to their guilt, who use every vile artifice to deceive and divide us, and thereby ruin the whole empire? And yet, thefe fame traitorous vermin would cloak all their foul conduct under the specious pretence, of Loyalty, and curse the honest Whigs for Traitors : whose, Loyalty in fact, is the very thing that vexes them .- Would it then be any wonder, if under fuch provocations, the friends of the Constitution, should, in some instances, thro' their zeal for the public good, go beyond the line of duty .- The Americans are, of all his Majefty's subjects, the greatest admirers of the British conflitution; because they efteem it the grand charter of their Liberties, civil and religious, which they love as they do their lives; and their loyalty to the prefent reigning family is as preeminent as their love of Liberty, and always has been ; because, they esteem that family as the proper guardians of the conflitution, on which alove their throne is bullt, and under the protection of which, we hold our Liberties .--In this view of things, no wonder if we fhould efteem those Traitors to the King, who are uling their utmoft efforts to undermine his throne, by destroying its basis, the Constitu-tion.—Hence, Loyalty itself, justifies us in opposing such men and such measures.— This view jullifies all the military preparations now making in America. The fronger we are in thefe, the fafer is the Empire,-We mean to act only on the defensive .- We ought by no means to firike the first blow, nor to provoke those who would -This is certainly a great point to carry against those who call us Rebels, and would make us fo, if they could. I know you will firitly adhere to the wife directions of our loyal Congress, according to which, while you encourage the doubtful, and inftruct the ignorant, you will punish the guilty and thereby greatly oblige your humble Friend.
